Miss RHS

Deana Grace

Mr. RHS

Jeremy Goff

We would like to note that Jeremy continues a tradition in his family — before him, both his sister and brother were honored with the RHS title in their respective years: Janet was voted Miss RHS of 1982, and Joel was Mr. RHS of 1986.

Congratulations to Jeremy and Deana and their families.

Going For The Gold

Riverside has passed its twenty-fifth anniversary and we're celebrating in style. Not only are we reminiscing about the past, we are looking to the future: We are looking forward to the fiftieth anniversary. We are experiencing the silver and going for the gold.

Gold in our True Colors program represents the traditional. It represents responsibility, which all of us must take on eventually. Gold also signifies setting goals. In high school we must all set goals and determine what we are going to become. We need to strive for this gold spirit.

Going for the gold also signifies becoming a winner. When we do the best we can we're winners. It doesn't matter if we're not the smartest or the prettiest. It doesn't even make a difference if we have the lowest grade in a class. If we do the very best we can, we're winners and we deserve the gold.

Let us all remember all the golden times at Riverside. Look back on our high school years with a smile and then look ahead to going for more gold.

Essie Mae Brasher has been at Riverside since Riverside was built. Here the other cafeteria workers are throwing her a birthday party.

Amy Conrad at an intense moment in the game:
"That @ # umpire!"

Amanda Holcomb demonstrates another of Riverside's traditions: the art of locker balancin!

Donna Kendrick and Virginia Benton are registering on the first of many hot days back at school.

Chase Skipper keeps up the infamous tradition of studying at Riverside. Or is he? What are you reading anyway?!!!

What big teeth you have, mighty panther! Kallie Montgomery experiences the joy of pantherhood at our homecoming game.

Are you in this picture? At Riverside one of our joys is showing our spirit at our superb pep rallies.

I Like The Blue

Homecoming week at Riverside is a very special time for all students. This week includes dress-up days, bonfire, homecoming practice and burying pennies after the game.

Everyone feels the "blue and gold spirit" during homecoming week.

3.

1. The band shows off their heart-shaped formation as the homecoming royalty prepares to walk through.

2. Heath Taylor, Jowayna Cruse, Deana Grace, and Jeremy Goff say, "It's free time!"

3. Diana Smart says, "How do you blow this thing?"

And Gold In You!

1. Melinda Myracle, Betsy Gill, and Richard Gregory show how "Clown Around" at Riverside on Twin Day.
2. Blake White sadly takes his last walk as "Mr. Universe" while Jeremy Goff intones the Pledge of Allegiance.
3. Amy Mayo, Ginger Cruse, Cindy Gulledge, Alisha Montgomery, and Angie Griggs sport the latest fashions in sleepwear.

The tradition of burying pennies for good luck under the goalpost at homecoming began in the fall of 1965. This year's seniors tell how it feels to bury their pennies:

Amy Conrad says, "It made me feel old!"

"Man, it was the most wonderful thing!" says Keenan Holbert.
Alisha Montgomery says, "It was special."

Sometimes You Get The

Gold

Angie Griggs and Matt Hernandez — Give the world a smile.

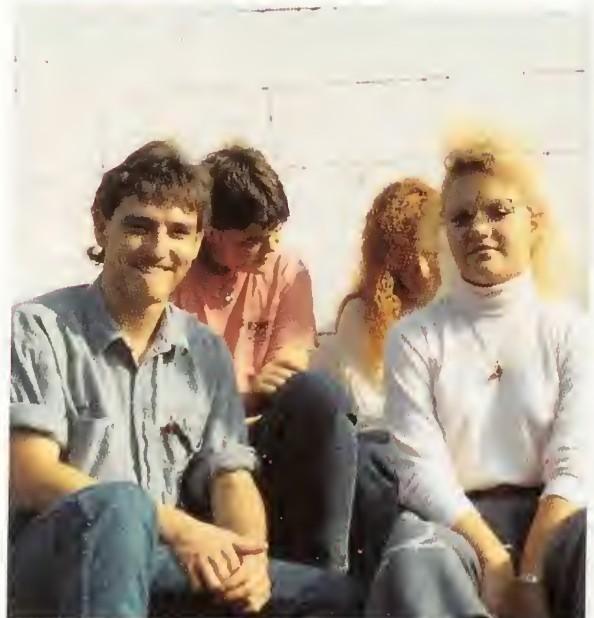

Ronnie Young, Larry Wilson, and Heath Taylor — I love to see you smile.

Diana Smart and Holly Lancaster — Got any cheeesel

Brian Johnson and Sherry Pitts — Enjoying the golden sunshine during the homecoming practice.

1. Alisha Montgomery: Daydreaming.

2. Clay Jordan and Jana Lee: Studying is such sorry sorrow.

3. Marty Stricklin: Why me?

4. Kevin Crowe: Give me one good reason to be happy.

5. Kevin Rhodes, Mindy Turner, and Jody Gurley: Who, us?

6. Michael Brasher, Shannon Yarbro, and Billy Browder: These are definitely not happy campers in the hot fall sun.

From Worst To Best

Chris Patton says her first day was her worst day at Riverside: "I went to the wrong lunch and they sent twenty people looking for me."

Nathan Jones: "In P.E. my pants ripped from the knee up while I was playing basketball."

Kelvin Pettigrew: "My pants ripped while I was trying to dunk a basketball."

Vangie McDonald when transferring here was worried about making friends but was relieved when it was easier than she thought.

Shannon Fisher says his best day hasn't come yet: He hasn't graduated yet.

Mark Lacy's happiest day was early in his junior year when he went into drama and saw Vangie.

Diana Smart: "When I got freshman maid."

And Sometimes You Get The Blues

"The Thrill Of Victory"

At Riverside you win some and you lose some. This year has been a year for injuries, for sure. Many football players have stayed out of games because of injuries beginning in the first game. It seems no matter where you go, the halls of R.H.S. are filled with people with crutches or with slings. Watch out for them and don't trip over a crutch or you just might be the next with the "Agony of the Feet."

Richard Sparks to Jeremiah Melton: "I've been drinking milk."

Kristie Broadway: "Split that V, dot that I, curve that C-T-O-R-Y."

Darian Davenport: "Hooray, I aced it!"

The crowd goes wild while Alan Tolley and Anthony Curtis leave to practice their cheer for the pep rally.

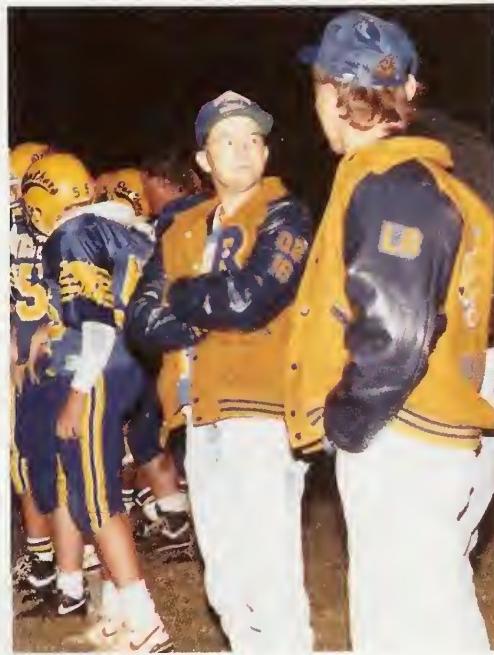

Amy Mayo congratulates Deana Grace on being honored with the Miss R.H.S. title. Deana: "Great, but you're crushing my hair."

A perfect example of the halls of Riverside: Wayne Stevens has a broken knuckle from football.

Jonathan Montgomery and Stevie Jones are looking very hip in their fashionable leg wear.

Jeremy Goff has an agonized look on his face as he watches the football game. Jeremy had to sit out of football this year because of chemotherapy and finally got to play in our homecoming game.

Blake White and Ronale Brasher experience the agony of stretching during football practice.

Chad Box stands watching football practice with Bart Smith. Chad broke his arm in our first football game of the season.

Danny Haynes fakes an injury to be like everyone else. Why not?!!

And The Agony Of
The Feet

And Arms
And Legs And . . .

99

All That Glitters

May Be Worth Waiting For.

Lesley Lunsford is "powdering her nose" at the 1991 prom. How'd that camera get into the bathroom?!!

Stephanie Brasher does a stand-up comedy act during our annual talent show. Just call her "Chocolate Girl."

LaRhonda Stone shows her pearly whites for prom night.

Melissa Lee: "Are you waiting for me?" She's glittering at the 1991 prom.

Angela Parrish ponders over the class ring — something that glitters that nearly everyone waits for.

and theme out of the Student Council. Last year's colors were black and white with touches of silver, red, and green. The theme was "High Enough."

For the past few years we've had an exciting talent show every spring in Riverside's gym. So many people wanted to display their talents last year that we ran out of time.

Each year the History Club goes on a trip to Shiloh. Last year everyone left singing "Dixie." This is a literal statement. Mr. Lee gave us the words and led us in song.

All these are part of the spring at Riverside and make up our colorful tradition.

Kari Keeton and Amanda Roberts are greeting people as they come through the lobby at prom. Amanda: "I hate bright flashes."

Jon Graves is decked out in prom wear that matches the theme colors.

Bart Smith and Angie Spence coordinate so perfectly at the 1991 prom. Nice backdrop, isn't it?

Michelle Goodman looking as pretty as — well — a picture.

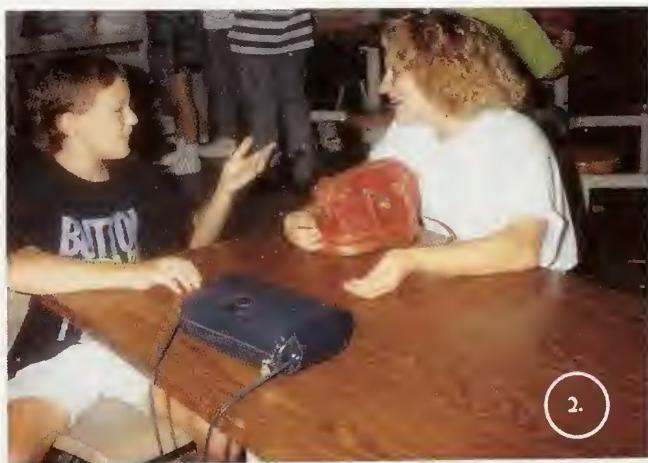

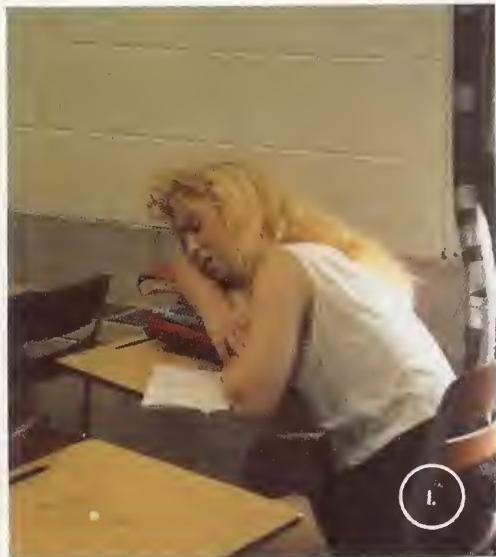

Jennifer Derryberry, Valerie Depriest, and Tonia Elvington enjoy the panorama of Pittsburg Landing at Shiloh. Tonia Elvington — "There she is, Miss American History" — taking her first walk of her reign.

Killin' Time

1. Christy Hayes: "Oh man! This test is going to be so hard. I'll just have a little nap before I start it."

2. Dusty Hayes: "Know what I mean?!"

3. Rhonda Jordan: "Oh, really!"

4. Rocky Ray: "Watch this!"

5. Colby Moore: "I wonder if they'll mind if I borrow their homework?"

6. Marcie Jones and Allyson White: "He said what?!"

The History Club takes part in many events throughout the year. Students taking American history can look forward to hearing special speakers, seeing exhibits, and going on the annual trip to Shiloh.

Jeremy Goff asks Jeanna Spence: "Hey, Jeannal Seen any worms lately?!"

Struggling up the hill from Pittsburg Landing, Scott Yarbro says: "I think I can, I think I can!"

Science Club

The science club consists of students in the Biology II and physics classes. These students participate in an enhanced study of science.

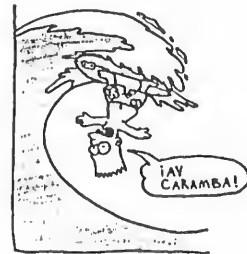

On a field trip to the lagoon, Amy Conrad and Tiffany Rice are annoyed by a pungent smell. They run into Roy Fisher and Mrs. Vestal, who are waiting for a creature to appear in the algae-coated pond.

Spanish Club

¿Hablas Espanol? Do you speak Spanish? Spanish is an important language to learn. At least twenty-one countries have Spanish as a first language. Twenty-five million Americans speak Spanish as a first language. These students are learning to communicate with people they might never get a chance to if they didn't know Spanish. They are also learning about another culture. Probably the number one reason these students are taking Spanish, though, is because they are required to pass two years of a single foreign language to enter college.

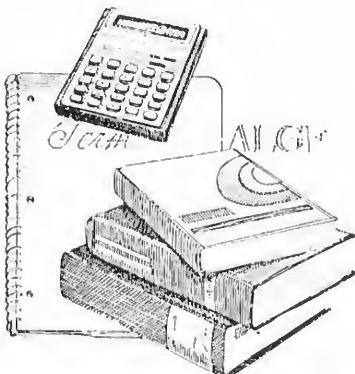

These students are examining the Spanish-looking puppets. Behind them is a bulletin board of collages which say "Me gusta" and "No me gusta." Students pictured the things which they did or didn't like.

Many things sold in the U.S. have Spanish on them, too.

Math Club

The Math Club and the Algebra I club are support groups for our chapter of Mu Alpha Theta and consists of volunteers enrolled in classes of college preparatory mathematics.

Algebra I Club

Christy Wheat: "Stand back, girls, and let a professional show you how it's done."

Speech Theater Arts

Speech Theater Arts is a class that deals with speaking, preparation of a speech, and maintaining composure in front of a crowd. Students are graded not only how well they speak; they are also graded on how well they express their ideas. The speech class is composed of fifteen students who discuss various issues. Speech is a learning experience which will aid these students in the years to come.

Governor's School

This summer two Riverside students spent a month at Governor's School. Governor's School was an honor. A limited number of students were chosen from schools all over Tennessee to spend an all-expense-paid month of fun and learning.

Sharon Gill went to Governor's School for the Sciences at UT Knoxville. Here she studied biology by choice; mathematics, technical writing and computing were mandatory. During the month she had classes every day except Sunday from 8:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. with an hour and a half for lunch. Every Wednesday was an all-day field trip with the class chosen at the beginning to major in. There were also seminars at night sometimes. According to Sharon, "Even with that busy schedule I still managed to have time for fun and to make some of the best friends ever."

Kim Pettigrew spent her month at East Tennessee State University for Governor's School of Tennessee studies. Here she learned more about the state we all live in. She chose to study Tennessee history in addition to the classes everyone had to take. Her classes were 8:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. Monday through Friday, with a field trip on most Saturdays. "The best part was the presentation of projects at the end of the month," Kim said.

Girls' And Boys' State

Alan Tolley and Sharon Gill represented Riverside at Boys' State and Girls' State, thanks to Decatur County Bank and the Lions Club, who sponsored the two.

Boys' State was held at Tennessee Tech in Cookeville. Alan spent a week there learning about state government through his experiences. The "mini-cities" competed for the prestigious award of Best City. The competition was judged on athletic ability, marching, talent, oratory skills, a test on state government, and room inspection. "The best part of Boys' State was getting to meet all the different people," Alan states.

Girls' State was held in Murfreesboro at MTSU. Sharon stayed on the fifth floor of one of the dorms in Forrest City. The cities were named after famous Tennesseans. Girls' State also had a competition for best city. It was judged on different performances put on during the week, skill in the Olympics, and a test over state government. Sharon says, "The real experience was the camaraderie of the girls and the power we found within."

State Board Delegate

The State Board of Education is made up nine adult members and one student member. The student member serves a term of one year and has the same responsibilities as the regular board members. The State Board deals with school policies and adopts new ones for the best interest of students. Representing the students of Tennessee on the State Board of Education is Alan Tolley.

Business Professionals of America State Officers

The Business Professionals of America State officers are high school teens from each region of Tennessee. These officers serve one year as state officers and then have the opportunity to run for a national office. Jeanna Spence is State Reporter/Historian and Dee Dee Scott is Parliamentarian.

Riverside Marching Panther Band

RIVERSIDE PANTHERS

RIVERSIDE

The Riverside Marching Band marched fifty-two members this year. This year the band competed in the Milan Invitational Marching Contest and the Memphis State Marching Contest. The band will be competing in several Christmas parades and spring parades. We are all proud of our band. Good luck!

Students Against Driving Drunk

Senior and Junior SADD Members

Students are faced with enormous decisions every day. One of these decisions is whether or not to use drugs.

The SADD club helps students recognize that they should never give up to drugs and alcohol. It also teaches them to deal with peer pressure.

If they do make the decision to drink, they should find someone who has not been drinking to drive or call someone to drive them home.

Officers: Mrs. Lou Ann Wallace — Sponsor, Sherry Pitts — President, Juan Fisher — Treasurer, Samantha Wells — Secretary, and Kevin Medlin — Public Relations.

Sophomore and Freshman SADD Members

Riverside's Peer Counselors

Peer Counselors are students that are willing to create a drug-free America. The peer counselors often talk to younger children about drugs and alcohol. They also put on skits with drug-free themes. Each peer counselor takes time to go to meetings to learn how to talk to others about being drug-free.

Second row: Shane Collins, Betsy Gill, Jeff Bell, Richard Gregory, Shelley Hicks, and Kim Pettigrew.
Front row: Natalie Renfroe, Sharon Gill, Sherry Pitts, Stephanie Brasher, and Aundrea Tole.

Office Workers

These students assist Mrs. Peggy Hayes and the RHS teachers by running errands, running off papers, and running (almost!) around finding students and checking on absentees.

Front row: Maronda Taylor, Mrs. Peggy Hayes, Aundrea Tole, and Kari Keeton.

Homecoming is a time that all of us will remember. From dress up days to bonfire, these special times will stay with us for years to come.

Although there will be some things forgotten, no one will ever forget when the football team burst through the homecoming sign during the prayer, chanting "R, R, RHS!"

As years turn into decades and the future becomes the past, hold on to these memories — they will last a lifetime!

Brian Johnson

Congratulations, Brian!
May God bless and keep you all your life through,
And may you let Him direct you
in all that you do.
We are proud of you.

Love,
Moma and Bill

Heather Lee

Heather,
It was only when God gave us our gift
from above,
That Mom and I began to know the real meaning of love.
You've gone from a baby — to a girl —
to a young lady.
And this change sometimes brings tears to our eyes.
Just remember we'll always love you no matter what your size.
Love always — Mom, Dad, Jon-Michael,
Desi, and Blaine

Clint Kennedy

Congratulations, Clint,
We are very proud of you, and love you lots. We hope the very best life can bring to anyone.

Love,
Mama, Daddy, and Kerri

CONGRATULATIONS to the Class of '92

Blake,

"There are two things we may give our children — one is roots, the other wings." (Author unknown)

As we look back over the past 12 years, we have seen you grow into a wonderful and responsible young man. As you look forward to an exciting future, always remember you take our love and support.

Love and God Bless,
Mom & Dad

We love you, big brother!

Mark Lacy

Congratulations, Mark,
We wish you the best life has to offer. We are very proud of you and we know
you will attain whatever you desire in life.

We Love You,
Mom and Dad

Time to Say Goodbye

Have you ever sat and realized
The moments that we've shared?
A laugh, a touch, a secret,
That showed how much we cared.
It passes by so quickly,
Just long enough for the eye to see.
But thank God for creating
Such a thing as a memory.
As years turn into decades,
And the future becomes the past,
We'll have these moments to keep us warm.
Because memories always last.
As we go on down life's everchanging road,
Dare to dream and reminisce,
About the friends that we all made
Here at RHS.

— Amy Mayo

TOP TEN EXCUSES FOR BEING LATE FOR SCHOOL OR CLASS

1. The roaches held me hostage.
2. Grandma got run over by a reindeer.
3. My friends stole my shoes.
4. I had to drive 15 mph in the school zone.
5. I was in Coach Barrett's office.
6. There wasn't any toilet paper in the bathroom.
7. I had to chase the cows.
8. I've got better things to do.
9. I got lost.
10. I hit a chicken on the way to school.

TOP TEN EXCUSES FOR COMING HOME LATE

1. They wouldn't let me have my "one phone call" from jail.
2. My friend got kidnapped.
3. I got pulled over for not turning on my headlights.
4. Someone threw my shoe out of the window and we had to stop and find it.
5. We went midnight bowling.
6. We hit a deer.
7. There was too much traffic (at 1:00 AM).
8. I fell asleep.
9. I didn't wear a watch.
10. I forgot what my curfew was.

You Don't Know What You've Got 'Til It's Gone

We had a lot of fun the night before,
But who knew what would happen when he walked out the door.
When morning came, the news was known,
But no one could believe he was gone.

A tragic accident no one could understand,
How it could happen to such a sweet, young man.
Everyone would miss his aggravating ways,
Especially when we remember the yonder days.

We'll never hear him say "I Love You" anymore,
And this aches our hearts to the very core.
Well, here we are standing around,
No one with smiles; just tears and frowns.

As they put him in the ground so deep,
Everyone stood quietly and weep'd.
All of the tragedy seems so wrong,
So just remember, you don't know what you've got — til it's gone.

Academic Decathlon

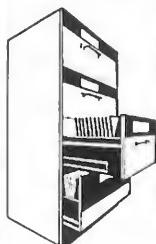

What is Decathlon? . . .

Decathlon is an excellent opportunity to expand our minds, learn new and exciting things, and meet other people with the same goals. It also gives team members a chance to experience competition on the mental field instead of the athletic field.

1992 DECATHLON TEAM

Alan Tolley, Kim Pettigrew, Anthony Curtis, Brandi Leitch, Michelle Goodman, Libby Quinn, Sharon Gill, Vangie McDonald, and Mark Lacy.

Sponsors — Mike Scott and Carol Vestal

Quick, start studying! Here comes Mr. Scott!

Mr. Crosby learning a little bit about the world outside of mathematics.

Distance Learning

Jeremy Voigtmann phones in an answer to his psychology instructor. A new program this year is the TI-IN Network, which enables students to take classes via satellite. This benefits students by enabling them to take courses not offered at RHS and to take classes they could not otherwise fit into their schedules.

Class members are Jennifer Morris, Brenda Morris, Jeremy Voigtmann, and Clinton Lafferty. Mr. Bill Crosby is the facilitator.

Seniors Say . . .

¡HASTA LA VISTA, BABY!

1992 Yearbook Staff At Work — And At Play

Mrs. Townsend to Stadium Mascot: "No, no, no! No matter how much you beg, you can't be in the senior pictures!"

Shane Collins teaches Richard Gregory how to draw an oval.

Brandi Leitch and Sharon Gill: "Who put this perverted letter in with our stuff?"

Kesha Tims: "Mrs. Townsend, how do you spell decathlon?"

Co-editor Jeanna Spence really gets into her work!"

"Here comes the rain again."

Kandy Keeton: "I'm sooo tired of drawing pages, writing copy, . . . "

Lulu James: "Who took this picture?"

Amy Mayo: "Hey, I know I'm wonderful."

Kim Wyatt: All right, who drew this page?"

Lana Banana: "I didn't know we had a picture of Pee Wee Herman moonin' those people!"

Brenda Morris: "Did you say this deadline is tomorrow?"

"Shane the Energizer!"

The Study Hall Crew

WHERE CAN YOU FIND A GOOD HELPER WHEN YOU NEED ONE? When the yearbook staff was faced with that question this year, the answer was — in Mrs. Townsend's 4th period study hall!

When there were proofs to be corrected and copied, lists of names and photos to be checked, papers to be filed, special photos to be located, school pictures to be delivered, film to be taken to Fred's, or any errands to be run, these students willingly performed whatever jobs were needed to produce the yearbook.

These RHS parents helped in the production of Memories '92 by providing transportation on our ad sales trips. We couldn't have done it without you!

Thanks again — from the yearbook staff and adviser.

The Memories . . .

Keenan Holbert, Matt Hernandez, Shawn Huskey, and Roy Fisher hold up the wall. Matt H.: "You have to be as strong as me to hold up the wall."

Fresh in our memories forever is our homecoming parade. Students decorate their automobiles and tour the county.

The "auto" modeling agency. Here we see Andy Lindsey, Jeremy Box, Clay Collett, and Jason Jackson sporting jeans and a T-shirt and Bradley Griggs modeling overalls, accessorized by a cap.

Jason Mitchell and Jody Carrington should never forget the MISTLETOE that Darrion Davenport brought to school.

We'll always remember our custodian, Darleen Gibson, who changed schools this year.

The girls basketball team will never forget the day when Liz Goodman and Veronica Mills were looking down on Atresha Mays.

What are you wearing under that sheet, King of Egypt? Tammie Todd:
"Peel you own grapes!"

Gina Dickson is having a dream about dueling with Mr. Crosby.
"On Guard!"

Memories Are Forever

As we all stand here together
For the last time,
Our minds drift off to the memories
That will forever remind.

Friendships that seemed forever,
Now go their separate ways.
We promise to keep in touch,
Just like the good ol' days.

It's now our turn to look ahead;
The future is ours to take.
Old friends we will leave behind,
But new ones we shall make.

And now that our high school days are over,
A tear enters my eye.
But just think back to you and me
And our times at Riverside.

— Amy Mayo

Is everyone smiling or are they shivering? It was amazing how many people crowded under these blankets after this picture was taken.
